

GEORGE BURNS GOES TO CINCINNATI

Local Fans Hate to See Faithful Outfielder Go, Even Though It Means Champions Will Be Strengthened With Heinle on Third, Frisch at Second, Bancroft Short and Kelly on First.

By Robert Boyd.

THE passing of George Burns from the Giants to Cincinnati in a deal that brings Heinle here is regretted throughout the metropolis. The genial, well-mannered and good natured up-State boy has long been a big favorite with New York fans.

The trading of Mike Gonzales and the $50,000 cash consideration that is reported to have gone to Garry Herrmann in the transaction is considered slight in comparison with the departure of Burns.

Judge Landis blocked the deal that would have brought Groh to the Giants last summer after he had been reinstated for his refusal to play with the Reds. McGraw needed an infielder and Groh was his selection.

This is one of the biggest baseball trades that have been transacted since Babe Ruth came to the Yankees from the Boston Red Sox.

Burns was one of the most popular players that ever wore a Giant uniform. He came to the Giants from Utica in the New York State League in 1915. Utica was the birthplace of Burns and it was there that he played baseball in his early youth. His first year in the National League he batted .294. He was ranked with the best three defensive outfielders in the league. In the year of 1915 he hit .284; 1916, .303; 1917, .272; 1918, .279; 1919, .302; 1920, .290; 1921, .302; 1922, .278, and last year he hit slightly below the .300 mark.

Groh has always been considered one of the greatest infielders in the major leagues. He has been a mainstay in the Reds' defensive strength and has been a natural .300 hitter since 1917.

Groh was with the Giants in 1912. He came to New York from Buffalo in the Eastern League. In 1913 McGraw traded him to Cincinnati with

TRADE IS SURPRISING, BUT GRATIFYING TO GROH.

HAVANA, Dec. 7.—Heinie Groh, Cincinnati third baseman expressed pleasure when told of the announcement made in New York last night, that he had been traded to the New York National League ball club for Outfielder George Burns and Catcher Mike Gonzales. "The news is as gratifying as it is surprising," he said. "I'm certainly anxious for the season to open, and you can be sure I'll do my best." Gonzales, whose home is here, said: "I'll do my share to win a pennant for the Reds."

Devore and Ames for Fromme and the sale price on the late Eddie Grant.

Groh is thirty-one years of age. He was born in Rochester and started his baseball career with Oshkosh, Wis. in 1908.

Burns is thirty-two, and during the last few years, particularly in his base running, he has been slowing up. Groh has not been a speed boy on the bases, and he, too, has been losing his "pop."

McGraw will use Groh on third, move Frankie Frisch to second, and with Kelly on first and Davey Bancroft at short will have one of the strongest if not the strongest infields in either major league.

Nothing is known of McGraw's plans in replacing Burns in centerfield. Irish Meusel will play left. Rose Young will hold down rightfield, and Cunningham, a promising youngster, will most likely be the successor of the popular Burns as the Giants' centerfielder for 1922.

O'Neill to Coach Columbia Again

Frank J. "Buck" O'Neill has been reappointed head coach of the Columbia football team. The length of the contract was not announced and no statement was made as to how the personnel of the coaching staff will line up. According to the announcement made last night by Robert W. Watt, graduate manager of athletics at the Morningside Institution, the decision to have O'Neill at Columbia again next year was reached at a joint meeting of the University Committee on Athletics and the Advisory Football Committee.

Watt said that another meeting of the two committees would be held in the near future when O'Neill returns from the West. At this time a decision will be made as to the coaching staff and schedule for 1922.

Next season will be the third that "Buck" has acted as mentor for the Blue and White gridiron men. Before coming to Columbia he was head coach at Syracuse. His appointment for next year, according to indications on the Campus last night, serves to show that the Columbia student body and athletic authorities do not feel that he is in any way to blame for the rather disastrous football season which the Lion finished on Thanksgiving Day.

COMEDIAN STONE OFFERS

$750,000 FOR RED SOX

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—Fred Stone, the comedian, said last night that he had offered Harry Frazee, owner of the Boston Red Sox, $750,000 for the Baseball Club of the American League. A conference regarding a sale will be held to-day, it was said.

A few days ago Frazee was quoted as saying that the Red Sox could not be purchased for less than $1,250,000.

Gans Knocks Out Hicks.

Panama Joe Gans knocked out Young Hick last night in the eighth round of a scheduled twelve-round bout at the Harrison Sporting Club of Harrison, N. J.

Gans is thirty-two, and during the last few years, particularly in his base running, he has been slowing up. Groh has not been a speed boy on the bases, and he, too, has been losing his "pop."

McGraw will use Groh on third, move Frankie Frisch to second, and with Kelly on first and Davey Bancroft at short will have one of the strongest if not the strongest infields in either major league.

U. S. G. A. Announces Next Year's Championship Dates and Courses

The selection of the Greenbriar Club of White Sulphur Springs as the course upon which the national women's championship tournament is to be played next year should prove a decidedly popular move on the part of the United States Golf Association. This journey will again be held late in the year, the week of Sept. 25, and better weather conditions will doubtless be encountered than was the case this year at Hollywood, where the final was played in a cold rainstorm.

The United States Golf Association cleared up its 1922 calendar by announcing yesterday the courses and dates for all the events, excepting the Professional Golfers' Association tourney, and put an end to all the guesswork as to the scenes and dates of next year's classics. The national open has been awarded to the Skokie Club at Skokie, Ill., near Chicago, and will again be held in July. The exact date is as yet to be announced, but association officials will place it late enough in the month to give the American pros who are taking part in the British tournaments a chance to compete.

The amateur championship will be held at the Country Club, Brookline, Mass., in the first or second week in September.

It is now regarded a certainty that Miss Cecil Leitch, the woman champion of Great Britain, France and Canada, will participate in the women's events here next year in another effort to annex the American crown.

Mike O'Dowd Still Game But Lacks Old Prowess

A Draw Is All Former Champion Is Able to Earn Against Lou Bogash.

LIKE champions of other classes that have gone before him, Mike O'Dowd is slipping fast. Johnny Wilson toppled the St. Paul boy from his middleweight pedestal some months ago, and the best he could get last night with Lou Bogash at the Pioneer Sporting Club was a draw in twelve rounds of fast fighting.

"Not the Mike of old," was heard, and the fans had it about right. Making his first appearance since St. Patrick's Day eve, when he failed in an attempt to regain the crown, O'Dowd showed he is far from the great fighter of old.

He punished Bogash considerably in the early rounds. The Bridgeport boy was repeatedly up against the ropes, taking a fusillade of rights and lefts. Mike shook him badly several times, but as the battle went along Bogash's right uppercut and lung rights evened matters.

In essaying his "comeback" Mike was confronted by a tough and rugged opponent. The battle was characterized by rough mauling, with science thrown to the four winds. The operation which O'Dowd has undergone within the past few months has evidently taken away much of his fighting ability. His gameness still stands out, however, although his prowess is diminishing. In justice to both fighters, the judges' verdict evened the score.

O'Dowd began with his usual tearing-in, hammering tactics, and seemed to make Bogash realize he was meeting a fighter who had fought his way above all in his class. Mike smashed Bogash with both hands. The latter was continually on the ropes, but his ruggedness proved too much for O'Dowd.

Mike had the edge in the first three rounds. Then Bogash began to wake up, apparently, and slugged back effectively. Mike's nose was barked and his face bruised. The fourth was even.

In the fifth O'Dowd lashed back, as in the early rounds, and earned the round. Bogash slipped on the canvas and landed on the floor in the sixth, but was up in a moment. He took many wallops to get in a telling punch, but he did not get the finishing touches to his training, in a gymnasium in that city. The bout is expected to attract a big crowd, as there is a demand for tickets. Buff is to receive a guarantee of $2,000.

John Cline, manager of Charlie Pitta, the Australian lightweight, received an offer from Jack Sawyer, Denver trainer, for Pitta to join Sawyer at the Stock Yards of Denver.

Champion Johnny Buff, who will take on Pat Moore of Memphis, in the main go of ten rounds at Milwaukee, on Dec. 15, will arrive in Chicago to-morrow, where he will get on the finishing touches to his training, in a gymnasium in that city. Meusel Thinks He's Sure to Get World's Series Money

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—Bob Meusel, New York American outfielder, to-day declared the fines imposed on himself, Babe Ruth and William Piercy for infraction of the major league rule prohibiting "barnstorming" tours for players who participated in the World's Series of that year could not be made to "stick."

"I have talked with attorneys and they tell me that a man's wages cannot be taken away from him," Meusel said. "I earned my World's Series money and Judge Landis has no right to take it away from me. Whether I will take the matter into the courts will be decided after I get in touch with Piercy and Ruth. I earned the World's Series money. It is mine, by every right and I intend to have it."

Playtowel Case Held Up by Overcrowded Docket.

When the case of Harry F. Sinclair, owner of the Ranocosa Stable, against James F. Johnson, who had under the non du course of the Quincey Stable, in the suit to recover $100,000 paid for the horse Playtowel was called before Judge Callaghan in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn yesterday, the docket was so crowded that it was put over until to-day.

Consequently the lawyers, witnesses and quite a congregation of onlookers who looked forward to the legal battle pocketed their disappointment and hung around until the beginning of the afternoon session in the hope that the case might be called.

Three Women Tie for Pinchhust Medal.

PINEHURST, N. C., Dec. 7.—Mrs. Herman Ellis of England, Mrs. John D. Chapman of Greenwich and Miss Louise Fordyce of Youngstown, tied for the medal in the qualifying round of the Carolina golf tournament with scores of 109. Each of the women had an opportunity to do better. Mrs. Chapman took a ten at the tenth hole when her ball was badly in the grass. Mrs. Fordyce took eight at two par four holes because of bunkers and Mrs. Ellis used up six strokes at the short par three eighteenth.

Army Eleven Takes Out Four New Games.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Dec. 7.—Eight of the ten games which the Army expects to arrange for its football programs for the 1922 season were announced to-day by Capt. M. Ridgway, on duty in the office of the Executive for Athletics at the Military Academy.

Four eleven, never before on Army's schedule, are among those down for contests with the Cadets. These four are Muhlenberg, University of Kansas, Alabama Polytechnic and the University of Tennessee. The schedule thus far completed is as follows:

Nov. 30, Muhlenberg and Lebanon Valley (doubleheader); Oct. 7, University of Kansas; Oct. 14, Alabama Polytechnic Institute; Oct. 21, (game); Oct. 28, Yale; Nov. 4, Princeton; Nov. 11, Cornell; Nov. 18, Bates; Nov. 27, Navy.

Fistic News and Gossip

As Champion Johnny Buff is not ready to fight Midget Smith at Madison Square Garden so soon after his ten-round go with Pat Moore at Milwaukee on Dec. 15, it looks like a sure thing now that Tex Rickard will sign up Midget Smith to meet Pete Herman in the main go of fifteen rounds at the Garden on Dec. 23. The winner will most likely be matched by Rickard to battle Buff in a fifteen-round bout for the bantamweight championship title either the first or second week in January.
